

Working with Kath was a revelation! I have worked with recruiters several times in this and previous job searches, but no one did a better job of ensuring I understood the employer's business and corporate culture which in turned meant that I was well prepared for the interviews and confident that the role would be a good fit on all levels. Kath represented me and her client professionally.

Pam O